HealthRoots Foundation Hosts First Annual “Fall Classic” Tennis Event

Napa, CA – Tennis and wine combined for a great cause on September 18-20, 2009 at the Napa Valley Country Club. The First Annual “Fall Classic” Tennis Event benefitting the HealthRoots Foundation, sponsored by Rocca Family Vineyards, drew a dedicated crowd of tennis enthusiasts, professionals, and friends in support of the foundation’s ongoing medical support to people in Malawi, East Africa.

The event brought together players from around the country for competitive doubles play, as well as for a Pro/Am Tournament. Napa Valley Country Club Head Tennis Pro, Sam Levy, also hosted tennis clinics throughout the weekend. Players were able to hone their skills while playing with, and against, seasoned tennis professionals.

Rocca Family Vineyards sponsored the Saturday evening dinner and wine tasting, treating participants to a tasting of their most popular releases.
